

Working With Sexually Abusive Youth: Current Perspectives and Approaches

This seminar is designed to help clinicians understand current ideas about this specialized practice, and recent and evolving changes in the field, providing an overview of current thinking and models by which to understand, approach, and engage in treatment. The seminar does not focus upon treatment itself or treatment models. It instead highlights and discusses important and current ideas about sexually abusive youth and the nature of the treatment process, the importance of the collaborative treatment relationship, an approach to treatment that recognizes the individuality of each youth in treatment, and an understanding of the developmental pathways to sexually abusive behavior. The seminar will be useful for those experienced in the treatment of sexually abusive youth

Target Audience

Psychologist	Social Workers	Counselors
Teachers	Therapists	Case Managers
Marriage and Family Therapists	Nurses

This seminar is for intermediate to advanced level clinicians

Learning Objectives

At the end of this seminar, participants will be able to:

1. Explain the importance of approaching the treatment of sexually abusive youth from a developmentally-sensitive perspective.
2. Recognize a developmental path to the development of juvenile sexually abusive behavior.
3. Describe the role of the collaborative treatment relationship in the treatment of juvenile sexual offenders.
4. Identify empirically validated principles of effective treatment.
5. Describe the importance of case formulation and Individualized treatment.

Our seminars are available in two formats. The first is a live, interactive webinar. You can ask questions of our presenters, either by typing them or speaking into a microphone. If the webinar time is not convenient for you, you can purchase the Home Study version. It is a recorded version of the webinar. You will have to pass a test to earn CE's for both the live webinar and the Home Study version.
